

three steps back

hitched a ride to ease the road ahead / losing ground beneath your shifting feet this is not what you had in mind / three steps back . . .

fight to sing the song inside your head / you've kept the lights on to avoid the mess / now all thoughts of sleep are restless dreams ...

racing forward / falling back / off your mouse wheel / three steps back . . .

those were not the words you meant to say / thought you'd leave but in the end you stayed / faithful to the choices you have made . . .

racing forward / falling back / off your mouse wheel / three steps back . . .

racing forward / falling back / off your mouse wheel / three steps back . . .

those were not the words that meant to . . .

make you leave though in the end you're / faithful to the choices you have made three steps back . . . three steps back . . .

racing forward / falling back / off your mouse wheel / three steps back . . .

racing forward / falling back / off your mouse wheel / three steps back . . .
